

INVITATION to our TEXTILE DEMONSTRATION DAY

Friday May 17th 2019, 11am - 5pm

Seven textile artists who are taking part in the Harleston and Waveney Art Trail will be opening their studios a day early for visitors with a special textile interest on Friday 17 May.

Each of these textile artists has developed their skills over many years, and between them cover a wide range of textile disciplines.

Their studios are within a short distance of each other, between Pulham & Bungay:

Rose Martin (painting on silk) Needham, studio 3

Isobel Auker (wool and silk felting) Pulham Market studio 6

Dinny Turner (rag rugs and collage) Starston, studio 8

Caryl Challis (contemporary batik on paper and cloth) Redenhall, studio 9

Ingrid Duffy (textile collage and stitch) Homersfield, studio 16

Lin Patterson (piecing, colour and construction) South Elmham, studio 17

Diana McKenna (printing and surface decoration on cloth) Bungay, studio 26

Visitors will be offered a unique chance to see and experience a variety of processes and techniques with fibre, cloth, colour and stitch. They can also find out about textile workshops available throughout the year.

We hope you will manage to make your way round all the demonstrations, you will find plenty of places for coffee and lunch in both Bungay and Harleston and at the Farmers Kitchen on the A143 midway between them to help you make a day of it.
